Silverstate $30,000 Wednesday to be Completed on Thursday at the Moser Spring Fling Million

Las Vegas, NV — Sunny skies greeted racers at Las Vegas Motor Speedway for Silverstate $30,000 Wednesday at the Moser Engineering Spring Fling Million presented by Optima Batteries. The final count of entries at the conclusion of the first round was 670, the highest in Spring Fling Million history and nearly passing the entry count record for any Flings Race Series event.

Given the enormity of the field and in the interest of providing racers a safe racing surface, the Fling Team postponed on-track action after the conclusion of seventh round. With seven drivers remaining, Wednesdays $30,000 will finish tomorrow.

With Thursday's tech card count predicted to reach 700, the Fling team decided that Thursday and Saturday's $30,000 events would be combined into one. All round money and prizes would be doubled, but instead of the purse becoming $60,000 the Fling Team raised the stakes to $100,000-to-win to show their appreciation for the large field of racers in attendance.

Laris Motorsports Insurance Thursday will see the first round and buyback round of the $100,000 race in addition to the completion of Silverstate 30K Wednesday. Silverstate Million Dollar Friday will run as scheduled, and the $100,000 event will resume on FTI Performance Saturday.

Event coverage will include live timing, starting line camera, finish line instant replay camera, exclusive interviews, and in-car footage streamed live on the BangShift.com free to the viewer courtesy of Hoosier Tire and JEGS Performance.
